HSUHK Careers Fair provides over 1,000 job opportunities for students

The Hang Seng University of Hong Kong (HSUHK) held its annual Careers Fair over four days, bringing over 130 renowned local, Greater Bay Area and global enterprises, as well as government departments from Hong Kong, providing more than 1,000 employment and internship opportunities from different industries. Themed “Shine Your Brightest”, the Career Fair offers a platform for employers and HSUHK students to connect and provide graduates and students seeking internships with firsthand information regarding job requirements and workplace practices.

In the opening ceremony, Professor Simon Ho, President of HSUHK, encouraged students to utilise the diverse resources that the University offers. He emphasised that HSUHK students will stand out for their unique strengths, professionalism, and positive attitudes, as these attributes are at the core of HSUHK students’ education and empower them to tackle future. He also expressed his appreciation to all sectors involved and thanked them for their support, especially since this year marks the HSUHK’s 45th Anniversary. President Ho also expressed his hopes to strengthen communication and interaction with external parties to secure more internship and recruitment opportunities for students in the future.

HSUHK Careers Fair includes a series of interview workshops, seminars, as well as alumni sharing sessions, where industry leaders and successful alumni provide students with the latest workplace insights and career planning advice, allowing students to prepare themselves as they explore various industries and seize future opportunities.
